

São Paulo

São Paulo is a city located in Brazil's Southeast zone. It has 12,11 million inhabitants, its official language is Portuguese and its most popular rivers are Tietê, Paranaparema, Grande, Turvo, do Peixe, Paraíba do Sul and Piracicaba. Its area has about 248,209,4km²

12,11 million people live in São Paulo

Major attractions

São Paulo is full of different places to visit, such as Ibirapuera Park, Paulista Avenue, Liberdade, MASP (which is a museum in Paulista Avenue), Sé Cathedral, Mercado, 25 de Março Avenue, Rock Gallery and a bunch of other places.

Major Attractions and Tourist Destinations

In 2017, São Paulo's PIB was R$ 1.939,890 trillion.

The main products that are exported from São Paulo are: automobiles, sugar, equipment, chemical products, electronic devices, ethyl alcohol, orange juice, meat, airplanes and airplane parts.

History

In short, São Paulo was born as a Jesuit mission in January 25th, 1554. It's inhabitants were European as well as native. After some time, it characterized itself as a commercial warehouse.

Other information

Some curiosities about São Paulo are:

It sells aprox. a million pizzas a day.

It has aprox. 1500km of underground rivers.

It is home of Latin America's biggest cemetery.

Sources

The links I have used are:

https://www.google.com.br/search?q=popula%C3%A7%C3%A3o+de+s%C3%A3o+paulo&rlz=1C1EJFA_enBR768BR768&oq=popula%C3%A7%C3%A3o+de+s%C3%A3o+paulo&aqs=chrome..69i57.4251j1j9&sourceid=chrome&ie=UTF-8

https://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Geografia_de_S%C3%A3o_Paulo

https://www.suapesquisa.com/economia/estado_sao_paulo.htm

https://www.guichevirtual.com.br/blog/curiosidades-sobre-a-cidade-de-sao-paulo/?gclid=Cj0KCQiAi57gBRDqARIsABhDSMolpeRY1499xtOy9sLN7DiLXqY5Cgwsz8NPCdyMP1f9B8TxagRboaAmuAEALw_wcB