Today's Story

The Chinese New Year Story

A long time ago, in China, the Jade Emperor decided that there should be a way to measure time. He told the animals that they were to compete in a race. The first twelve animals across would be rewarded by having a year named after them.

On the day of the race, all the animals lined up beside the river.

The rat and the cat, who were good friends, were worried as they were not good at swimming.

They asked the ox if he would carry them across on his back.

The ox agreed and they jumped on his back.
When the race started, the rat and the cat
were very pleased when the ox took the lead.
They were almost at the other side when the rat pushed the cat into the water and jumped onto the bank to finish first.

Happy Chinese New Year

By: Helen H. Moore

“Gung Hoi Fat Choy!”

In China, every girl and boy

Celebrates the New Year

In a very special way

With fireworks and dragons, colored red and gold.

They welcome in the New Year and chase away the old.
