THE MANY KINDS OF COLD

BY: DALE-MARIE BRYAN

Can you think of things that are cold?
Do you know other
words that mean
cold? Words with similar meanings are called synonyms.

A close-up photograph of two glasses filled with lemonade. The glass on the right has a large ice cube and a lemon slice on the rim. The glass on the left is being filled with water from a pitcher, creating a splash. In the background, several whole lemons and a stack of lemon slices are visible on a wooden surface.

Cool means cold.
Ice cubes keep lemonade cool on a summer day. We will serve lemonade by the pool.

Crisp means cold. The air feels crisp when the temperature falls. Warm breath looks like fog in the crisp air.

Chilly means cold. We pack
chilly snow
together to make a snowman.

Later, we will put a red scarf
on the snowman.

Frosty means cold. Ice cream stays frosty in the freezer. The most common flavour is vanilla.

Freezing means cold. Water turns to solid ice when it is freezing cold. The ice at the skating rink is shaped like an oval.

The background of the slide is a photograph of an ice cave. The walls are covered in long, thin icicles hanging down. The floor is covered in snow and large, jagged ice chunks. The overall color palette is shades of blue and white.

Frigid means cold.
The South Pole is frigid. It is the coldest place on Earth. Is it cold
where you live?
